Criteria for Slow & Advanced Learners

The institution and departments assess the learning levels of the students as follows:

- The admission committee members interact with the students seeking admission. They also consider the marks obtained by the students in the last qualifying S.S.C. and H.S.C. examinations.
- An aptitude test is conducted by the department of English after the admission process. From that the students knowledge of the subject is checked.
- The subject teachers assess the knowledge, skills and aptitude of the students in the classroom behavior of the students and their performance in internal continuous assessments.

In this way the department identifies the slow and advanced learners and takes necessary steps towards their further development.

The institution has adopted following strategies for identifying the slow learners.

- As the programme begins, the subject teachers update students' knowledge related to the concern subject and bridge the gap between previous and present knowledge.
- The subject teachers provide subject related basic knowledge and increase their confidence to adopt the new knowledge of the subject.
- The teachers of concerning subject offer personal guidance to individual and group of student on various occasions.
- The college library provides basic material related to the subject and according to the needs of the students.
- The Department organizes extra classes for the slow learners. The teachers provide the knowledge of basic concepts in English and create awareness about recent developments in the subject.
- Those strategies help to improve basic knowledge of the slow learners and increase their confidence level for further academic progress and performance in examinations.

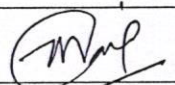

Principal
